The issuance of new STAT-USA passwords, originally scheduled for the last week of January 2009, has been postponed.

Through their partnership, STAT-USA and GPO continue to offer free access for Federal depository libraries to STAT-USA products, which include STAT-USA®/Internet™ and USA Trade® Online.

Based upon best practices in database security, STAT-USA and GPO are taking this opportunity to review and revise the Account Validation Form. We are also working to develop a FAQ Web page that will be posted on the FDLP Desktop.

When revision of the form is complete, all depository libraries wishing to have free access to STAT-USA will be required to complete, sign, and return the new Account Validation Form, and new passwords will be issued.

Please continue to use your current passwords at this time. More information will be provided as it becomes available.
